THE SCENE A PATHETIC ONE

Husband and Sister of Girl
Witnesses of Terrible
Tragedy Early This Morning

Mrs. Sever Yttre, 24, the bride of a day, was shot to death at the Burlington depot at 10:23 o'clock this morning by John Peterson, a rejected suitor.

With the dying woman lying at his feet Peterson then turned the revolver upon himself, firing two bullets into his head, but failed to inflict a fatal wound.

The tragedy took place in the heart of a great crowd of fair visitors that thronged about the depot, waiting the southbound train that was to have taken Sever Yttre and his young wife to the home he had prepared for her at De Soto, where they had arranged their future residence.

Above the noise and bustle of the depot three shots rang out, one followed by a momentary pause and then two in quick succession. The note of tragedy was instantly in the air. Women screamed and men came running to the spot. The crowd pressed close about the wounded pair, and until the police arrived the distracted relatives were powerless to keep the people back.

Mr. Yttre and Anna Thompson, sister of the dead woman, were witnesses of the tragedy, but so stunned were they by the horror of the crime that they could render little assistance.

Dr. Frank Weston, who was at the depot when the shooting occurred, had the body of Mrs. Yttre removed to a room in the depot, but found her beyond reach of help, death coming at 10:37, fourteen minutes after the shooting.

Dr. Weston turned his attention to Peterson, and at once concluded that his wounds were not fatal. He picked up the revolver, a .32 calibre of cheap make, and handed it to Detective Joseph McGrath. Chief Webster had also arrived with Sheriff Chris Burns, Captain Dugan and Patrolmen Horschak and Johnson.

An ambulance conveyed Peterson to St. Francis hospital, and the dead woman was taken to the undertaking establishment of Miller Bros., on Main street.

Mrs. Yttre, formerly Miss Ella Thompson, was standing beside her sister, directly in front of the depot entrance, when Peterson stepped up from behind and without a word, sent a bullet through her body. The bullet entered her back and probably severed a large artery or found lodgment in her heart.

One of the bullets Peterson fired into his own head merely inflicted a scalp wound, but the second fractured the skull and lodged near the brain. It was removed by Dr. G. J. Egan at St. Francis hospital. Dr. Egan announced that recovery is almost certain.

Admits Jealousy
Peterson during a moment of consciousness, shortly after the shooting, admitted to Dr. F. R. Weston, who hurried to the scene, that jealousy was the cause of the affair.

Later, while semi-conscious Peterson was heard to say: "I couldn't help it, she was more than the world to me. I tried to reason with her but it was no use. I always did what she wanted but—just couldn't help it!" Anna Thompson, sister of the dead woman, who was standing beside her at the time of the shooting, said:

"Peterson and my sister worked together at S. Schaner's farm near De Soto for nearly two years. Peterson often forced his attentions upon my sister but she always refused to be more than friends. Peterson quit several weeks ago and I think he went to his home at Retreat. "I saw him walking back and forth on the platform for several minutes before the shooting but neither my sister nor myself thought anything of it. While we were both looking the other way I heard a shot and saw my sister fall. Peterson then shot himself."

Husband Distracted

With his sister-in-law trying to console him, Sever Yttre, husband of the murdered woman, sat weeping at central police station from the time of the shooting until noon, unable to control his emotions. Between sobs, Yttre tried to explain, but the greater part of his talk was incoherent. He declared that he had never had any trouble with Peterson and had no idea that Peterson would resort to violence.

Married Yesterday

Ella Thompson and Sever Yttre came to La Crosse yesterday. They visited the fair as planned and went to the residence of Rev. H. G. Magelssen where they were married. They spent last night in La Crosse and after having photographs taken this morning, went to the Burlington depot. They intended to take the 10:30 Burlington train to De Soto where they had prepared a home.

Shots are Confused

According to the story of Mrs. Yttre's sister, Peterson shot her but once and sent two bullets into his own head. Others, however, declare that he shot the woman twice and himself once. The operation performed by Dr. Egan this morning showed that two bullets had entered his head, thus bearing out the assertion of the girl.

The body of the woman has not yet been examined. One bullet wound near her neck was visible when she was picked up but whether he fired another shot at her or not, is not positively known. Nearly all agree that but three shots were fired.

To Hold Post Mortem

Dr. D. S. MacArthur and Dr. D. J. Egan will hold a post mortem examination of the body late this afternoon and an inquest will be held under the direction of Coroner L. Kleeber. The post mortem examination will be held at the Miller Brothers' undertaking rooms.

Sister Terrified

As the shot was fired, Anna Thompson, the little sister of the murdered woman, started to scream and became hysterical; persons in the depot rushed for the entrance, hundreds flocked to the scene from the nearby buildings and hotels while clerks and railroad officials attempted to keep the crowds back until the police arrived.

For a moment all were too dumbfounded to do more than stare in amazement at the two deathlike forms lying at their feet. The baggageman of the Burlington was the first to regain self control, and stepping forward he lifted the head of the girl upon his knee and attempted to revive her. His efforts proved of no avail and shortly she was removed to a side room in the depot. It was necessary to place a patrolman at the door to prevent the crowd from pressing into the room.

Little Attention was Paid to the Man, who was hurriedly placed in the ambulance in charge of Officer Johnson and removed to the hospital.

As he was being removed angry murmurings were heard from the mass of people who filled the streets.

Can't Get Car

Chief of Police John Webber, upon being notified of the shooting affair, attempted to hire an automobile to hurry to the scene but was unable to procure one. He ran all the way to the depot, but upon arriving there found two of his patrolmen who had pressed a private automobile into service, in charge.

32 Caliber Revolver

Dr. Weston found the revolver lying by the side of Peterson, upon his arrival and later gave it to Detective Joseph McGrath. The revolver was a Harrington & Richeson make and was a thirty-two caliber. It was fairly new.

Bullet Removed

Dr. Egan was assisted by one of the hospital physicians and several of the sisters in removing the bullet, but found it necessary to also remove a small part of the skull. At 12:40 Peterson, still under the influence of ether, was taken from the operating table. At 3:30 this afternoon he was resting easily and recovery is assured.

Under Police Guard

While no warrant has been issued Peterson is practically under arrest, under the supervision of Officer Johnson, who is assigned as a constant guard to his person at St. Francis hospital. James Thompson, district attorney, said this afternoon that a warrant charging first degree murder, will be issued early tomorrow. The penalty is life imprisonment.

HIGBEE TO RUN G. O. P. CAMPAIGN

Elected to Chairmanship of Republican County Committee; Kidder Is Secretary

STRONG CAMPAIGN ASSURED

Committees Chosen to Take Charge of Congressional and Senatorial Districts

J. E. Higbee, chairman of the city committee of the republican party, was elected to take charge of the campaign in the county this fall at a meeting of the county committee in the courthouse last night. Mr. Higbee takes the chairmanship vacated by James Thompson, whose term expired. Joseph K. Kidder, former city editor of The Tribune, was elected secretary of the county committee, and C. S. Van Auker was chosen treasurer.

After the election of officers several committees were chosen to take charge of the campaign in the different districts. The congressional committee for the first district is Frank Winter and Frank Allen, and for the second district, S. W. Brown and Herman Roessler. John Kindley and J. M. Halvorson were named as the senatorial committee. Chairman Higbee will appoint the members of the executive and finance committees in the near future.

The matter of selecting headquarters was left to the chairman, and as it is the decision of the committee to begin the campaign at once it is likely that the headquarters will be put into operation this week. Mr. Higbee's election to the chairmanship of the county committee was learned with satisfaction in republican circles today. Mr. Higbee's ability as a campaign manager having been thoroughly demonstrated during the last campaign when he was chairman of the city committee, and it is certain that the most vigorous campaign ever waged in La Crosse county will be carried on up to the November election.

Upon his taking the chair last night Mr. Higbee announced that he expected every member of the committee to use every means in his power to bring about the election of the entire republican ticket. He declared that co-operation in the support of the republican candidates and platform is essential to the success of the ticket and he promised to carry the fight into every precinct in the county.

CHINAMAN IS MOOSE

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 26.—Chas. H. Shue, the Chinese nominated by the republicans for the house of representatives, today announced that he was a bull moose and would vote for Roosevelt. Shue obtained his nomination in ward seven, heretofore democratic, on a progressive party platform in which he inserted this personal plank. "I pledge myself to do all that I can to have laws enacted which will admit Chinese women to this country without restriction." He was born in Seattle of Chinese parents and is under 30 years, with a wife and three children.

SEES SON KILLED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 26.—While playing in the street in front of his home, in sight of his family, John Lutinski, five years old, was ground to death under the wheels of car No. 418 of the Vliet street-First avenue line, Tuesday night.

MAN REVERTS TO STONE AGE TYPE

Wild Man Discovered Living in Cave Like Animal Is Imprisoned for Scientific Study

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Shrinking from all who approached him, and seemingly ignorant of the use of modern utensils, Arthur Britton, 40 years old, a "wild man" found living in a cave in the Pawling mountains, was confined today in the Hudson river state hospital, that experts might study him in an effort to understand his remarkable case.

The man, who disappeared ten years ago, was discovered living unclothed and uncivilized in the cave. He barked like a fox when approached and the officers had difficulty in capturing him. His beard and hair were very long, and a soft brown hair covered his entire body. His teeth were strong and sharp like those of a carnivorous beast and his shaggy brows gave him a ferocious look. Snarling and yelping, he tried to evade capture and when placed in the hospital dashed about like a frightened wild thing. For that reason he was placed in a padded cell today. Britton cannot talk, and the doctors said that it was because of his long solitude.

MANY AT HEARING OF RIVER FIGHT

Nearly 100 at Hearing Before Maj. Keller of Dresbach and Dakota Complaints on Channel

TO REPORT TO DEPARTMENT

Head of River Engineers Declares He Will Send Resume to the War Office for Action

Before a crowd of nearly 100 persons, mostly citizens of Dresbach and Dakota, Major C. Keller, chief of the government engineers on the Mississippi river, this morning heard the complaints of the two villages against the government engineers because the Mississippi river channel has been moved over to the Wisconsin side. There were six launch loads of La Crosse people present at the hearing, and John Salzer, Andrew Boyd and Ed Loomis of this city spoke. The others who laid the villagers' grievances before Maj. Keller were R. Remp, Harry Marsin, Ernest Horner and Harry Horner, John Nichols and John Carlson, of Dresbach; and William Harrington, John Donehower, Fred Holtz and Judge Tibbets of Dakota.

Judge Tibbets was the only one of the speakers to defend the action of the government engineers. After he finished speaking the rest of the complainants moved that his speech be stricken from the record of the hearing, alleging that he held a contract with the government for river work.

The citizens declared that their landing for steamboats has been spoiled because the channel was moved from its original place on the Minnesota side over to the Wisconsin shore. The government engineers say the landing is as good now as ever and the channel at present is much better for the river boats.

Following the hearing, Major Keller announced that he would make a report of the matter to the war department. He made no comment upon the evidence submitted. The hearing lasted more than an hour, and after its close Major Keller with Capt. W. A. Thompson, head of the local river district, whom the citizens of Dresbach and Dakota blame for their being cut off from the river, boarded the U. S. boat Alert and returned to La Crosse.

NICARAGUA REBEL GENERAL GIVES IN

Luis Mena Ends Revolution by Yielding His Sword to Officer of U. S. Troops

MORE REVOLTS ARE BREWING

All Central American Republics Reported to Be in State of Unrest at Present

PANAMA, Sept. 26.—Reports that Gen. Luis Mena, the rebel leader, has surrendered were confirmed today. The version here is that it was not to the government commander that he yielded his sword, but to the officer in charge of the American forces at Granada. Yesterday's story of the massacre of 29 American blue jackets at Leon after they had killed forty rebels was brought here from Costa Rica. Their account was that the rebels tried to stop a train passing through Leon with arms and ammunition. The American blue jackets on board objected, the revolutionists opened fire on them, the Americans answered it and a general engagement followed. No official confirmation having been received, the story is believed to have been exaggerated.

Other Revolts Brewing

Though the situation in Nicaragua was improved today by Gen. Mena's surrender, other Central American countries seemed to have caught the revolutionary contagion. Disquieting reports were received from nearly all of them and many predictions were being made here of the early necessity of American intervention on a large scale or widespread disorders are certain.

Revolution Ends

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Finis was written on the revolution in Nicaragua today. American Minister Weitzel, at Managua telegraphed to the state department that he had received full confirmation of the surrender of the principal rebel leader, General Mena. Weitzel reported that he received word from Rear Admiral Southerland at Granada, that Mena had surrendered with 700 men. It is assumed here that the surrender was to President Diaz of Nicaragua.

What disposition will be made of Mena cannot be definitely predicted today but as the request of the Nicaraguan government for American intervention gives Southerland very broad powers, it is assumed that he may direct what shall be done with Mena.

PANAMA, Sept. 26.—The newspaper Prensa Libre, of San Jose, Costa Rica, today positively confirmed reports that the Nicaraguan liberal leader, Dr. Eschinoso Eras, is in Leon and declares he will take the field against "American meddlers" in Nicaragua. The former Nicaraguan minister here has received similar news.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 26.—The revolution ended, rebel soldiers are arriving here and laying down their arms. The rebel forces on the west coast have given up also. News of General Mena's surrender and self-imposed exile to Panama completely shattered the already tottering revolution today. A few leaders will be arrested but there will be no general arrest of soldiers.

BRYAN IN NEVADA

RENO, Nev., Sept. 26.—William J. Bryan arrived here this forenoon and held a reception but did not speak. He motored to Virginia City, where he spoke to the miners.

MARKHAM SURE OF CONVICTION

District Attorney at Whitehall Says He Can Prove Mrs. Heidemann Killed Aged Husband

WHITEHALL, Wis., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Declaring that he had a "clear case," and could not fail to procure a conviction, District Attorney Markham at noon today prepared to introduce the last of his testimony against Mrs. Charles Heidemann, aged woman on trial for the murder of her 71-year old husband April 19. Mr. Markham said the prosecution would probably finish its evidence taking this afternoon. He said the case would be in the hands of the jury by tomorrow evening.

This morning the testimony taken was relative to the discovery of the body of the aged man with the head beaten in by some blunt instrument. Neighbors of the couple testified that they had been living alone for several years, and that there was much ill feeling between them. About a dozen witnesses were examined this morning.

This afternoon it was planned to take expert testimony of physicians, by which Attorney Markham will attempt to show that the wounds were such as could have been inflicted by a feeble old woman.

BEACHEY BRAVES DANGEROUS WIND

Engine Trouble Forces the Aviator to Descend After Two Short Flights

HORSE RACES DRAW CROWDS

Good Card This Year; La Crosse Horses Win Two Events; Judges at Work

Weather conditions yesterday lowered the attendance at the Interstate fair by at least 2,000. The turnstiles registered less than 6,000 paid admissions, 500 less than Tuesday's attendance and much lower than the second day's attendance of last year. Indications today are that the attendance will prove a record breaker.

At 2:30 Lincoln Beachey soared into the air, driving his biplane against a heavy wind. After twice circling the grounds at a low altitude, Beachey experienced engine trouble and descended. At 4 o'clock he started his second flight, but despite the fact that his machinician had worked over the engine for an hour previous to his starting, he no sooner rose into the air than his engine began to miss fire. He immediately landed.

Races

The 2:23 pace proved the feature of the day's races. Birdie B., a Minneapolis horse, winning the race by capturing the fifth heat after a neck and neck fight with Gay Americus. Phrase Highwood, who took second money, lost the race by breaking on the home stretch of the fourth heat. Phrase Highwood took first in the first and third heats, and with a safe lead on the home stretch of the fourth heat, broke, but came under the wire in the lead. Birdie B., who finished a close second in this heat, was given first place and Phrase Highwood second.

The best time was made by Birdie B. in the second heat, 2:21 1/4, and Phrase Highwood came within 1/2 second of this time in the next heat. Gay Americus, although failing to win any of the heats, was near the front in all and crossed the wire in second place twice. Stattle, a Duluth horse, was distanced in the first heat and withdrawn in the fourth, after coming in hopelessly behind in the second and third heats.

Alice McGregor Wins

W. N. Millard, piloted the second La Crosse horse to victory yesterday when Alice McGregor crossed the wire in the lead in three of the four heats of the 2:20 trot. Alice McGregor came in third in the first heat, made a strong finish in the second and third heats, landing second place. In the last heat, Theawood gave a poor start and came in last while Alice McGregor walked away from the field. The best time made by Alice McGregor, 2:21 1/4.

THREE SWITCHMEN KILLED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 26.—Three switchmen, Fred Stever, S. A. Neal and Joseph Perron were killed and five trainmen injured today, when an empty passenger train and an oil train on Kansas City Southern collided in the fog on a river bridge five miles east of here. The trains were backing in opposite directions and a mistake in orders caused the wreck. Of the injured three are in a critical condition.

MADISON DOCTOR GIVEN SIX YEARS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 26.—Dr. A. R. Law, one of the oldest physicians practicing in Madison, was Wednesday sent to the state's prison at Waupun for a term of six years by Judge E. Ray Stevens for manslaughter in the second degree. The court also revoked his license to practice medicine in the state. Dr. Law was found guilty by a jury of having performed a criminal operation upon Mrs. Annie O'Brien, which resulted in her death.

LOVER BOUND TO KEEP THE PEACE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 26.—"If you do not marry me I will kill you. I love you so much that I could not stand to have you become the wife of another man" is the manner in which Henry Schwob is said to have proposed to Katie Berg. It was such a surprise to Katie and it shocked her so much that she had Schwob arrested on a charge of threatening to kill. The court placed him on a sixty days' peace bond of $50 and the love is expected to cool within that time.

Severe Cold? Go To Your Doctor

You could not please us better than to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis. Thousands of families always keep it in the house. The approval of their physician and the experience of many years have given them great confidence in this cough medicine.

40,000 BABIES DIE EACH DAY

Every Other Tick of Clock Counts One More to List of Infant Dead

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—"More than 300,000 Porto Ricans have been cured of 'hook worm' disease," Surgeon Bailey K. Ashford, U. S. A., told the International Congress of Hygiene and Demography today. "The campaign against 'anemia,' or hookworm, was begun in 1904," said the army surgeon, "and has culminated in the successful treatment of 300,000 persons in Porto Rico. Ninety per cent of the rural Porto Ricans are infected with the disease. The physicians had to deal with 800,000 infected persons, 350,000 of which were treated in seven years. Three hundred thousand more still require treatment. The sanitary service is reaching victims in even the most isolated mountain districts."

Defects Cause Dullness

Dr. Helen MacMurchy of Toronto, said: "There are few classes of school children where we have not the backward, the stupid and the sick. The stupid may have adenoids; the dull may be only dull of hearing, and the backward may be really feeble-minded. All of them are heavy burdens to the teachers and to their fellow-scholars. Medical inspection of schools is one of the signs of the times. This is the century of the children. Medical inspection can give real direction to the task of education."

"At every other tick of the clock, year in and year out, a baby dies," was the statement made today before the International Congress of Hygiene and Demography by Edward Bunnell Phelps, of New York. "The world's infant mortality reaches the enormous figure of 40,000 babies' deaths each day. In the United States alone 1,000 babies die every day."

"The present crusade for the reduction of infant mortality dates back only five years. There are 55,000,000 babies born every year and 15,000,000 die before completing the first year of life. New York City has set the pace for establishing at municipal cost more than fifty stations for supplying pure milk at low cost and free medical inspection for the babies of the poor."

Follow up Inspection

A "follow-up" system of medical inspection of school children was advocated by Dr. Thomas A. Story of New York City College. He said: "This system is correcting unhygienic conditions in New York in over 90 per cent of the cases under observation. This plan of individual instruction in personal hygiene is improving the physiological efficiency of 1,000 boys every year, and has met with the approval of all parents. Development of permanent health habits is our aim."

"Industrial insurance is needed rather than legislation by which workmen may combine for self protection," Dr. Lee K. Frankel of a New York life insurance company told the hygiene congress. "This is the basis of industrial hygiene," said Dr. Frankel. "Workmen are educated regarding their industrial hygiene needs. Workmen and employers find it cheaper to live hygienically."

MAN HELD FOR DEATH OF GIRL

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Sept. 26. H. A. Schumacher of Marshfield was brought here and placed in jail on Wednesday afternoon charged with the responsibility for the death of Miss Aurella Faber at Amherst Tuesday morning. Her death is said to have resulted from blood poisoning, following an alleged illegal operation.

"CASCARETS" BEST FOR THE BOWELS

Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage way every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanses and regulates the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10 cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Advertisement.

OFFICIALS BLAME AIRMAN FOR SPILL

Mestach Held Responsible for Death of Fellow Birdman Gill at Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Aviator George Mestach was blamed for the death of Aviator Howard Gill at Cicero flying field on September 14, in the testimony of Aero club of Illinois officials before a coroners jury today. Mestach's monoplane and Gill's biplane collided in the air. Gill was killed instantly and Mestach is recovering from serious injuries.

D. D. Griffith of the contest committee said that Mestach went into the air against the expressed wishes of officials who did not want him to fly in the dark.

George F. Orgibet, a newspaper reporter, who was present at the time of the accident, testified that he heard Mestach complain that it was too dark for flying, and that officials of the air meet ordered him to fly anyway and threatened to hold back his prize money unless he ascended. The newspaper reporter's testimony substantiates statements of Mestach shortly after the accident.

URGES SEX TEACHING

SAYS EDUCATION NOT FEAR IS SOLUTION OF PROBLEMS OF IMMORALITY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Denouncing the sexual disease exhibit at the International Hygiene congress as a "chamber of horrors," Dr. Ira S. Wile, of New York, today told the delegates that education—not fear—is the proper method to curb immorality. "We must take the child from its birth and teach it self-control," said Dr. Wile. "Education of girls is the crux of the problem. They are the ones to train boys to self-control, for the male is the sex-aggressor. Once all women make it plain that they will not marry without a doctor's certificate from the groom; once all womankind resolves that she would rather be a healthy old maid than an infected wife, on that day the problem of sex hygiene will be solved. "These exhibits ought to be thrown out into the street. Why show them to terrify our youth into doing right?"

BOTH SIDES WIN POINT

SNEED AND STATE BOTH SCORE IN TRIAL OF SLAYER'S DEMAND FOR HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

AMARILLO, Texas, Sept. 26.—The state scored in the Sneed habeas corpus hearing today, when defense witness John Pace declared John Beall Sneed often told him if he and Al Boyce ever met one of them would be killed. The defense recovered ground the next minute, when love letters from Boyce to Mrs. Sneed were introduced and read. Len Boyce, brother of the murdered man, was forced to identify Al's writing in the letters. Len admitted that his brother visited the woman under assumed names in Fort Worth and Dallas after their elopement. Deputies continued to search the audience for weapons.

U. S. COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—A preliminary cotton report of the census bureau today shows the total supply for the year ending August 31, to have been 17,673,294 running bales. #### LA CROSSE COUNTY IS READY FOR CAMPAIGN

The party machinery is being oiled up for the campaign in La Crosse county. Both the democratic and the republican party organizations met yesterday. Each was fortunate in its choice of those officials who must bear the brunt of active campaigning. Widely differing in political beliefs, J. E. Higbee and E. J. Kneen are alike men of untiring activity and capacity for detail. The outlook is for a hard and fair campaign in which the issues will be thoroughly tried.

On the presidency Mr. Kneen will have the advantage in that the candidate he supports is in sympathy with the present trend of popular thought and enjoys, in this section, the undivided confidence of the progressive element of his party, with the additional advantage of appealing strongly to progressives not affiliated with the party. On the other hand, the republican presidential candidate cannot be said to furnish inspiration for his party workers.

The significance of this relative to the state and county tickets is minimized by the fact that the presidential candidates are to be voted upon in ballots separate and distinct from the state and county ballots.

On the governorship the situation is reversed. Mr. Kneen must undertake the task of supporting a candidate out of harmony with the progressive element of his own party, including Governor Wilson, with the added disadvantage of himself acutely disagreeing with that candidate. On the other hand, Mr. Higbee's candidate for governor has a progressive record calculated to appeal to the progressives of all parties.

The legislative ticket presents one main issue: whether the people of La Crosse county are prepared to endorse, or to reject, the progressive legislation of the past administration and that proposed by the progressives in the coming session. On the merits of this question, judging from the sentiment disclosed in former campaigns, Mr. Higbee will have an advantage, and it may be expected that even so aggressive a campaigner as Mr. Kneen will have to adopt the defensive policy of attempting to obscure that issue by injecting minor considerations into the contest.

The announcement from Madison that Senator La Follette will support Thomas Morris of La Crosse for the senatorial seat now held by Senator Stephenson may be only gossip, but it is gossip that will be greatly interesting to people who have been speculating as to what would be the future relations between McGovern and Lenroot and the statesman of Maple Bluff Farm.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

When Mr. Bryan was on the ocean trip which resulted in his boat going ashore near Cuba, he made the acquaintance of an English scientist, who told him some fascinating stories about the difficulties of discovering unknown islands in the sea. The scientist mentioned one island which was always reported in a different place, and his theory was that the island did not move, but that it had some peculiar magnetic quality which affected the ship's instruments and resulted in erroneous records.

"It's astonishing," the learned man remarked, "that an island as large as that can be utterly lost in seas as much traversed as those."

"How large it is?" asked Mr. Bryan. "About two miles across."

"Well, I don't call that so remarkable," Bryan said, with a light smile. "The fact is, I myself have lost areas a great deal larger than that."—Popular Magazine.

"Is Mr. Tompkins at home?" "No; he has gone to town."

"I am very sorry, as I would have liked to talk to him."

"Is there anything I can tell him for you?"

"My name is Williams, candidate for sheriff, and I wanted to exact a promise from him to vote for me at the coming election."

"Shortly after Lee's surrender," says the general, "I was a short distance from Richmond. Two confederate soldiers were going home to become men of peace again. One had a lame, broken down horse, which he viewed with pride."

"Wish I had him, Jim," said the other. "What will you take for him?"

"I'll give you $20,000 for him."

"No," said Jim. "Give you $50,000."

"No," said Jim. "Give you $100,000," his friend urged.

"Not much," replied Jim. "I just gave $120,000 to have him shod." —Everybody's.

HE COMES UP SMILING

Copyright: Bobbs-Merrill Co.

The general climbed out. "If we had consulted the book—" "My dear sir," interrupted Bartlett, a bit irritated, "the book could not possibly have told us that the family had moved since last fall when I spent two weeks here, hunting."

"Certainly not," laughed Henrietta, who spent a good part of her life steering with infinite care and constantly growing skill between the Scylla of her father's wrath and the Charybdis of the hurt feeling of those whom the general had offended. "This is simply one of the unforeseen misfortunes of the road."

"Besides," said Bartlett, "we don't know that the Higginses have gone!"

"Don't you see that there aren't any signs of life?" demanded the Watermelon. He had lived by his wits so long that he noticed instinctively the little thing which meant so much and are generally overlooked. "If there was any one here some window would be open on a night like this, wouldn't it?"

CHAPTER X. The Deserted House.
"Wonderful, wonderful!" murmured Henrietta in the tones of the famous Watson.

Bartlett looked at the house and nodded gloomily. "I guess you are right. Funny they should have left without writing me about it. I have known them for years."

"I will get the blue book," said the general, with the calm satisfaction of one who at last comes into his own. "We can return to the nearest village."

"What do we want a blue book to do that for?" sneered Bartlett. "I should think two motor-cars could do it, provided we followed the road."

"Hold on a shake," said the Watermelon. "I will get in a window and open the door."

"We had better not," objected Henrietta. "Wouldn't that be house-breaking?"

The general agreed. "Certainly. It is warm and we can spend the night quite comfortably if you do not want to return to the village."

Billy shuddered and glanced appealingly at the Watermelon. A deserted house was bad enough, but outside where the owls called dismally from the woods and where bats flitted by in the dark held possibilities infinitely worse.

"I have known these people longer than I have Billy," said Bartlett. "I used to come here when I was a kid. It will be all right to break in. They are like my own folks."

The Watermelon immediately jumped to the porch, disdaining the few steps, and disappeared behind the vines which covered one end and concealed the window.

Bartlett turned reassuringly to the general. "It will be all right, Charlie. Don't worry about it. Why, I've always called Mrs. Higgins Aunt Sally."

Visions of hot sausages, bread and milk die hard when one is hungry and the general snorted. "That's all right. I am hungry enough to break into the Bank of New England if it resulted in something to eat, but what can we find in an empty house?"

"Ghosts," said Henrietta. Billy pinched her. "If you think there are ghosts in there, Henrietta, I simply won't go in."

"Certainly there are ghosts," said Henrietta. "There always are in empty houses. Where else do you find them?"

"We will return to the village," declared the general, "and get something to eat. I will get the book—"

"An empty house is better than the countryside," said Bartlett. "And we have plenty to eat in that basket Henrietta put up."

"If there is something to eat—" wavered the general.

A light gleamed a moment through the crack of the door and then the door opened and the Watermelon grinned at them in the light of a small smoky lamp he held.

"Where did you get the lamp?" asked the general as the Watermelon led the way in.

"Found it," said the Watermelon. "The place is furnished. The family is probably only away for a visit." He set the lamp on the table and from long habit wiped his dusty hand on his trouser leg. "I fell over everything in the room before I got next to the fact."

He glanced about with some pride and the others stood in a semicircle and stared around. The room was a typical country kitchen, a huge stove side by side with a large chintz-covered rocking-chair. A dresser for the crockery and a haircloth lounge took up one side. There was a center-table with a red checked cloth, a few chairs and a sewing-machine near the window.

On the walls were a number of cheap prints and several huge advertising calendars with gay pictures of young women in large hats and low-cut dresses.

Bartlett glanced around and at every unfamiliar object his heart sank lower and lower and his first sickening suspicion became a painful fact. He had never been in that room before. The Higginses had never lived there. Everything was strange, the furniture, the rugs, the very shape of the room.

CLEAN YOUR LIVER AND 30 FEET OF BOWELS WITH "SYRUP OF FIGS"

More effective than calomel, castor oil or salts; gently cleanses the stomach, liver and bowels without nausea or griping. Children dearly love it.

You know when your liver is bad, when your bowels are sluggish. You feel a certain dullness and depression, perhaps the approach of a headache, your stomach gets sour and full of gas, tongue coated, breath foul, or you have indigestion. You say, "I am bilious or constipated and I must take something tonight."

Most people shrink from a physic—they think of castor oil, calomel, salts or cathartic pills. It's different with Syrup of Figs. Its effect is as that of fruit; of eating coarse food; of exercise. Take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight and you won't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged up waste matter, sour bile and constipation poisons move on and out of your system, without gripe, nausea or weakness. Nothing else cleanses and regulates your sour, disordered stomach, torpid liver and thirty feet of waste-clogged bowels like gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Don't think you are drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it cannot cause injury.

If your child is cross, sick and feverish, or its little stomach sour, tongue coated, give Syrup of Figs at once. It's really all that is needed to make children well and happy again. They dearly love its pleasant taste.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look on the label for the name—California Fig Syrup Company. That, and that only, is the genuine. Refuse any other fig syrup substitute with contempt.—Advertisement.

DIPPY-DOPE
IF A CHINK SMOKED DOPE WOULD A PIPE DREAM?
IS A SAILOR A RUBBERNECK BECAUSE HE GOES TO SEA?

Where were they? Whose house had they unceremoniously broken into? A clammy chill crept down Bartlett's back and his florid face grew still redder.

None of the others was noticing him. The general was prowling around to see that the enemy could not come upon them unawares. The Watermelon had lifted the basket on to the table and the girls were preparing gaily to set forth the repast, all three rummaging in the closets and drawers for plates and knives and forks.

The general returned to the table. "All serene along the Potomac," said he, thrusting his hands into his pockets and peering into the basket with renewed hope. Henrietta smiled gaily. She had pushed aside her auto veil, her cheeks were flushed with the joy of the adventure and her eyes bright.

"Father," said she, "in all our lives, we have never had an adventure before, because you persist in using those blue books."

The general laughed and helped himself to a sandwich. Billy opened the dresser and peered gingerly in, her small nose wrinkled for any unforeseen emergency. She had taken off her hat, and her soft yellow hair, bound back by a black velvet snood, escaped around her temples in tiny waves. Her eyes, thought the Watermelon, were brighter than the lamp upon the table, and her laughing, kissable mouth redder than the crimson lips of the fair creatures in the gay calendars on the wall. Her hand upon the latch of the door was so near his own that he was tempted to put his on it, but instead slipped his into his pocket with a delicacy he did not recognize in himself. She was a girl, young and sweet and attractive, and because she was attractive, she had been flung into the maw of the Street, a victim of the age's insane desire for money and more money. Each dainty curl, each flash and disappearance of her single dimple had been reckoned as so much in dollars and cents. So the Watermelon put his hand in his pocket and only watched her with poorly veiled admiration.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes MRS. MARGARET ZUBERT, of 323 S. Benton Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the storm came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-ball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."

GOMPERS SCORES CAPITALIST PLOTS

Says Lawrence Strike Will Reveal Depths of Infamy of Men
Higher Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—"Criminal conspiracies of merciless and unscrupulous capitalist antagonism to organized labor" are flayed by President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L. in an article in the October number of the Federationist, issued today. "The already famous Lawrence strike is apparently yet to perform another service to workingmen in furnishing public substantiation for charges against men 'higher up,'" said Gompers. "The public has felt that some great power had dropped a baffling impenetrable curtain, shutting them out from the facts in the case and that the trial of John J. Breen was but an attempt to whitewash. The story of Ernest W. Pitman and his relations to the dynamite case are most suggestive of the abuses of financial powers. Rumor says he had been expecting financial aid from the big mill men. Apparently it was determined to destroy labor organizations by discrediting the workers. One way to do it was to show they were lawless users of dynamite."

BOWLING LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

North Side Merchant Box-
wood Enthusiasts Plan for the Coming Season

A meeting of members of the Merchants' Bowling league of the North side was held last evening, when the following officers for the coming year were elected:
President—Oscar Paulson.
Secretary and treasurer—Henry Whittenberg.

Plans for the coming bowling season, which will probably begin about the first of October, were discussed by the many members who were present and a plan of dividing up the players so as to make the teams more evenly matched was talked over. Although no decision was reached in this matter, it is thought that this arrangement will be tried this year, as many are in favor of giving the scheme a trial and a committee consisting of Oscar Paulson, Henry Whittenberg and R. Swanson will meet next Monday evening to discuss the matter further.

Much interest is being displayed in bowling and the indications are that the coming season will be one of the most successful which this city has ever seen. It is thought that the plan of dividing the players up among the various teams will be a big improvement, as in that case the teams would be evenly matched, as all the star bowlers would not be on the same club. As a result of each team being strong the race for the championship would undoubtedly be a close and hard fought affair with the result in doubt up to the close of the season. With the same eight clubs that competed for the championship last year again in the race this year and with the teams evenly matched, the members of the league are looking forward to the opening of the season when the championship games will be started.

HARMONY PREVAILS WHEN DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION
MEETS TO PICK PROGRES-SIVE CANDIDATES

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 26.—Perfect harmony was the keynote of the democratic state convention which met here today. With progressive candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, and with assurances that they would be allowed to dictate the platform, the Wilson followers have agreed that the more conservative element can retain control of the state central committee. Both factions according to the talk and action of the leaders, have firmly decided not to oppose each other, as they believe they have a chance for victory in the state this fall if they present a united front. The only contests expected are over a few seats in the committee.

MAY HALT TRIAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 26.—Daniel J. Brophy, of Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the defendants in the dynamite conspiracy cases will be unable to appear here when the trials begin on October first, owing to a broken leg, according to information received here today. It was also said that John T. Butler of Buffalo, N. Y., another defendant is ill, but he may possibly be able to appear. There is considerable speculation whether the fact that all of the accused cannot be here would be sufficient grounds for a continuance.

MOOSE NAME SMITH

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 26.—The progressive party of Connecticut held its state convention today and placed in nomination for governor, Herbert Knox Smith, former U. S. commissioner of corporations. A platform embracing all the progressive principles adopted by the Chicago convention was adopted.

T. R. FOR FEDERAL FLOOD CONTROL

Colonel Tells Memphis Audience Problem Is Not Local but National Issue

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 26.—Making the plea that the question of protecting the land about the lower end of the Mississippi river is not one for the people of any one locality to wrestle with, but that it is the duty of the nation to prevent great flood losses, Colonel Roosevelt spoke here today at the levee convention. He recommended the use of machinery now engaged in the Panama canal project, in making it impossible for the Mississippi to climb out of its banks and devastate lowlands of several southern states.
Because he came here to make a non-partisan speech to the interstate levee convention, Colonel Roosevelt refused requests to make any political speeches. He will follow the same program at New Orleans tomorrow, leaving politics strictly alone except at conferences with local progressive leaders.

TO HOLD EXAMS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Before anyone will be able to take the examination, they must first make application to the chief examiner of the civil service commission, F. W. Doty, whose address is Madison, Wis. These blanks will be mailed to any stenographer who will request them of Principal E. E. McCormick or Professor R. H. Butler. The examination will be held in the high school building for the convenience of students who have no typewriters of their own. All the machines at the high school will be at the disposal of all applicants who request the use of machines.

DENY AMNESTY OFFER

MADERO GOVERNMENT SAYS OR-OZCO AND OTHER REBEL
LEADERS WILL NOT BE PARDONED

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 26.—The government today officially denied the story that Rebel Leader Orozco has been offered amnesty. The old offer of amnesty to rebel soldiers was re-announced, but it was specifically stated that leaders would not be pardoned.

The result of the offer of amnesty to rank and file of the rebellion has been nil.
Opposition to President Madero's program grew today in parliament. Except a large war loan, which probably will be approved, his bills will have to travel a rocky road.

The local textile strike in protest against drafting into the army grows daily worse. The government threatens to increase the mill owners' taxes if they do not raise wages.

STEAMER HITS PIER

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Scores of passengers were panic stricken but unhurt today when the liner Stephano, inbound from Halifax, was caught by a heavy tide and hurled bows-on against the battery wall. Pier A in North river was splintered by the collision and the office of the dock commissioner was damaged. The steamship was backed away with little damage.

BRITONS ANXIOUS TO HEAR SCHEME

Land-owners Fearful Over Lloyd-George's Coming Announcement of Land Tax

LONDON, Sept. 26.—British land owners showed anxiety today at the news that Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George will be ready either October 7, when parliament reconvenes, or very soon afterward, definitely to announce details of his program for "freeing the land for the benefit of the people."

"Lloyd-George is a single taxer," said one of his closest friends and advisers, an American, today. "As a practical statesman, he appreciates that it would not do to attempt to put England on a single tax basis all at once, but that this is the end toward which, by ever-increasing taxation of land values, ultimately to break up the land monopoly."

In connection with the conference of land tax reformers to be held in London early in October, in connection with the Lloyd-George campaign, Joseph Fels, the American millionaire, will propose a resolution affirming "the deep conviction of the conference that the existing deplorable condition of the people is directly traceable to the withholding of land from its best economic use."

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Pierre Loti, the greatest, perhaps, of modern French prose writers, today declared that he likes China, Japan and the far east generally better than he does New York with its Broadway and its helter-skelter money mad crowd. Ancient Turkey, he said, was better than modern America. He explained himself by saying that ancient Turkey was contemplative, while the United States is sacrificing the higher ideal to business success as measured by dollars and cents.

SAFE REMEDY ENDS CATARRH MISERIES

Gives Instant Relief, Cures and Prevents Catarrh and Cold in the Head.

The quickest, best and safest way to cure catarrh or a cold in the head is by using a remedy that will "touch the spot" and do its work quickly without leaving any bad effects. Ely's Cream Balm, which is applied to the nostrils or rubbed on the throat or chest gets right at the root of the trouble and instantly relieves even the worst case of catarrh or cold. A few minutes after applied you can feel a loosening up in the head, the pain and soreness are gone, the sense of taste, smell and hearing come back, and you feel like a different person.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, heals and strengthens the inflamed membranes, takes away that stuffed up feeling and dull pain in the head, relieves the throat soreness and stops the nasty discharge which is the cause of the disgusting hawking, spitting, blowing of the nose, and foul breath. Hay fever victims who are made miserable by fits of sneezing, coughing and wheezing get instant and permanent relief by the use of this simple remedy.

Don't suffer another minute. Ely's Cream Balm will relieve you immediately, and a 50 cent bottle will more than likely work a complete cure. All druggists sell it. O. T. Erhart.—Advertisement.

NORMAL PLANS CONCERT SERIES

Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra One of the Attractions of Winter Course

FATHER CLEARY IS COMING

Lecturers of National Re-education on Program of Well Balanced Entertainments

Announcement is made today of the course of entertainment offered by the normal school for the coming season. Hundreds of our citizens have come to look forward to this course as an essential part of the winter's attractions; others, who have not hitherto been its patrons may well look into its merits and consider the extremely low price at which the entertainments are furnished. We notice, for instance, that prominent on the list is a concert by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, for a ticket which most people would expect to pay the price of $1.00 or $2.00. On the other hand, the price of a season ticket for this entire course is only $2.00. As the course includes five numbers the average cost is but forty cents.

Besides the orchestra, concerning the merits of which no extravagant language can scarcely be used that is not deserved, there is first a lecture upon "American Citizenship" by Rev. James M. Cleary, pastor of the Church of the Incarnation at Minneapolis. Father Cleary has a national reputation. As president of the Catholic Total Abstinence society he has wielded great influence throughout the land. He is an orator of striking personality and power. More than all, Father Cleary is a man of broad sympathies, who is beloved by all persons of whatever creed, because of his good works among the people of his flock. He is a great man with an inspiring and patriotic message.

First among the dramatic interpreters of his day, stand Leland Powers of Boston. It is safe to say that he is a stranger in scarcely any intelligent community of good size where a course of entertainments is regularly given. Words of praise for the perfection of his art are not necessary.

Concerning Lorado Taft, little need be said beyond the fact that he stands among the foremost American sculptors. His illustrated lectures upon the art of which he is master give one an insight into its processes and teach one to enjoy and to appreciate beautiful works of sculpture.

Among the leading self-made Americans of today, John Mitchell,

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Hon. and Mrs. J. J. Esch and daughter Margaret went to Sparta today to attend a dinner given by Mrs. Esch's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Herbst. They will return Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Will Hickisch has returned from Chicago where he went, accompanied by his wife, early in the week. Mrs. Hickisch will remain several days longer.

occupies a conspicuous place of influence. He is not merely a labor leader, but more, because of his breadth of view and his statesmanlike grasp of economic and industrial problems. He is also an author of note, his book upon Organized Labor being accepted as high authority upon that subject. No citizen can fail to be interested in the message spoken by Mr. Mitchell concerning the history and purposes of labor organizations.

This list comprises a well balanced series of lectures and entertainments of which the local normal school and the people of La Crosse in general may well be proud. We bespeak for the course the generous patronage that has been accorded to it in the past. The course opens on Friday, October 4, with the lecture by Rev. J. M. Cleary.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

Get a 50 cent bottle from your druggist today. He will give your money back if you are not satisfied after a fair trial.

UNMARKED GRAVE CAUSE OF DEATH

Sudden Attack Upon Wheeler Followed Discovery His Daughter's Tomb Was Stoneless

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 26.—Anger over the discovery that his daughter Candace, had been buried in an unmarked grave brought on the sudden attack which ended the life of James Cooper Wheeler here Monday, according to his attorney, Emil Schmallock. Before returning to New York with Wheeler's body, Mr. Schmallock said: "The fact that a headstone had not been placed at the grave, along with the discovery that the undertaker's bill had remained unpaid made the father indignant and increased his determination to run the mystery to the ground."

He spent hours at the grave Sunday morning and was planning to visit Bowles Lake, the scene of the drowning. After looking at the will signed by the girl, he expressed absolutely conviction that when she signed her name she was either under the influence of a strong nervous excitement or under the spell of a drug.

BRYAN FLAYS MURPHY

COMMONER CALLS ON NEW YORK DEMOCRATS TO REPUDIATE BOSS AND GOVERNOR DIX

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 26.—Wm. J. Bryan urges New York democrats to repudiate Murphy and Dix in the Commoner today, saying in part:

"What will the democrats of New York do in beginning a campaign for votes of men who want government placed upon the substantial basis of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none'? Will they surrender the control over their party to Charles F. Murphy, who, repudiated by Baltimore, must be repudiated by the New York democracy if that democracy would keep step with the spirit of 1912? There are many honored and capable men whom the democrats might nominate for governor of New York. They will meet with the sorriest disappointment if they undertook to pit John A. Dix against an Oscar Straus."

T. R.'S MEMORY IS POOR ON LETTERS

Colonel Can't Remember Incident Mentioned in Sibley-Archbold Letter

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 26.—Asked further concerning the published letter from Congressman Joseph Sibley to John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company, in which the Pennsylvanian told the trust chief that the then president would be glad to see him, Col. Roosevelt said today: "I do not remember any such incident. However throughout my administration if any member of congress, Mr. Sibley or anyone else came to me and said they would like to have me meet Mr. Archbold or anyone else, I would say: 'Why, of course, I'd be glad to see him.'"

"I made it a practice to see pretty nearly everybody, for instance, Mr. Morgan and Mr. Harriman, and the labor leaders who came to talk over the Moyer trial.

"As to Mr. Hearst's statement that he has other letters coming, I repeat my former statement that I'd be glad to have him publish all he has. Moreover, if he can give me my data or memorandum regarding letters which I may have written I'll publish them myself.

"I do recollect one time, and it bears out exactly how I saw everybody, that young Mr. Rockefeller came to see me, the meeting having been arranged by Mr. Cleveland Dodge. As a matter of fact, the Standard Oil company was not mentioned at that meeting. We talked exclusively about the white slave traffic, Mr. Rockefeller at that time being foreman of the New York grand jury which was investigating conditions."

STANDARD LAWYER BARRED IN CASE

Counsel for Oil Trust Is Ruled Out of Hearing Because of Offensive Remarks

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Col. Robert Stewart, counsel of the Standard Oil, was today ruled out of the Standard-Waters-Pierce hearing because he made remarks which Commissioner Jacobs characterized as "offensive," and as there was no other of the Standard Oil's army of lawyers available, the hearing went over until Oct. 3.

Jacobs called Stewart's remarks "bullying" and "brow-beating" and ordered him to be "more gentlemanly."

Untermyer interposed that Stewart had no right to appear as counsel as he was a party to the suit.

"I understand that Commissioner Jacobs is unwilling to make any ruling that is unsatisfactory to Mr. Untermyer," said Stewart, wrathfully.

"I consider your remarks to be offensive and hereafter I shall refuse to recognize Mr. Stewart as counsel in this case," Jacobs said.

ARBuckle ESTATE VALUED

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 26.—By the tax appraiser's report, filed today in the surrogate office, the estate of John Arbuckle, sugar king, who died March 27, last, is valued at $29,613,344.66. His two sisters, Christina and Catherine A. Jamison, of Pittsburgh, Pa., inherit the estate.

While the value of a piece of Diamond Jewelry depends largely upon the worth of the stone itself, yet other factors help to govern. To-wit: The fineness of the mounting material, the quality of workmanship, the perfection of construction, skill of moulding and the true artistic value of the design in its entirety.

The combination makes perfection and such gem set jewelry we carry.

ALDERMAN PLAN TRAFFIC OFFICER

Policeman May Be Stationed on Fourth and Main to Prevent Congestion

A traffic officer stationed at Fourth and Main streets whose duty it shall be to regulate the flow of traffic through the crossings will be provided for at the next meeting of the city council if a resolution or ordinance which will be introduced by Alderman William Collins or Alderman Frank Kohn receives favorable action. The extraordinary traffic which at times during fair week threatened to result in blockades or in collisions between vehicles and injury to pedestrians has caused the police department to station two men on the crowded corner during the rush hours and one man at other times.

The plan has succeeded so well that the aldermen whose wards border on Fourth and Main streets will attempt to have it continued. In the event the proposed ordinance is passed the man detailed to Fourth and Main will probably take his station in the middle of the street and all automobiles and vehicles will go round him in making the turn and in times of extraordinary traffic, teams and autos must await the traffic officer's signal before making the crossing or turn.

The traffic squad plan has been in use several years in the large cities and has proved to be of great value in preventing congestion on the busy corners and in making it much easier and quicker for teams and autos to get through.

By order of Chief of Police John Webber a mark has been placed on each of the sidewalks leading to the corner showing the limit inside of which the traffic ordinance prohibits the stopping of automobiles or other vehicles. This mark is one hundred feet from each corner and all autos will be compelled to go past them before they stop.

The word has been passed in police circles that if the ordinance is passed the handsomest man on the force will be selected to take the station and there is said to be considerable rivalry already evident for the coveted honor.

"Suppose not," was the obvious answer.

"Why, then, even ask me as to the chances of Wilson and Marshall in this campaign?"

"Nothing will be done before Monday, but if Ettor and Giovannitti should not go to trial then, or should they be convicted, the strike will surely materialize."

LIKENS TAFT TO T. R.

BRYAN SAYS EITHER COULD ENDORSE THE VIEWS OF THE OTHER WITHOUT ANY DIFFICULTY

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 26.—William J. Bryan sees no essential difference between William H. Taft and Theodore Roosevelt. In his Chamber today Bryan says in essentials Mr. Taft and Roosevelt are not far apart; if either one will write out his views on the subject, the other will have no difficulty in endorsing them. They both take the side of the trust against the people and the trust magnates are divided between them. They agree in applauding the decision of the supreme court emasculating the criminal clause of the anti-trust law. They both favor imperialism and they both prefer national to state remedies. The chief point of difference on national issues seems to be that they both want the same office.

BARE FUED FURTHER

HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS UNCOVER INSIDE HISTORY OF FAMOUS SNEED-BOYCE CASE

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 26.—The Sneed-Boyce feud which has cost the lives of two Boyces up to date, was further bared at today's session of the habeas corpus hearing by which John B. Sneed hopes to gain his freedom after killing A. Boyce, who was planning a second elopement with Mrs. Sneed.

John Blanton, Sneed's body guard, testified that he accompanied the millionaire night and day since he killed the elder Boyce. After Mr. Sneed's arrest for the second assassination, Blanton said he guarded Mrs. Sneed to keep her from running away with the two children.

The fact that Mrs. Sneed was about to become a mother was brought out today.

Blanton testified that when he told Sneed of Boyce's visits to Mrs. Sneed at Dallas, the husband acted like a crazy man, was unable to sleep and carried on a continuous conversation.

Another letter from Boyce to Mrs. Sneed, introduced in evidence today said that he spent $5,000 to escape from being arrested in Canada on an abduction charge after their elopement.

INDUSTRIAL CENTER IS PLAN

Armour, Swift and Deering Interests Involved in Scheme to Found a New Municipality

KEOKUK, Iowa, Sept. 26.—Chicago capitalists will spend between thirty and fifty million dollars to establish an industrial community in Illinois, across the Mississippi river from this town, according to local capitalists, who went to Chicago today to assist in closing up deals for the land near the Illinois end of the big Keokuk dam now under construction.

It was stated that Armour, Swift, Deering and affiliated interests plan to make Keokuk and environs one of the greatest manufacturing centers in the world when the new dam is completed. Local people hold options on nearly 1,000 acres of farm land on the Illinois bank of the Mississippi here and the Chicago financiers, it was said, would take over these options today. It was pointed out that if the next session of congress puts through the proposed deep waterway legislation Keokuk will be almost midway between the great lakes and the gulf and products manufactured here could be shipped with equal ease to ports of the world either by way of the Mississippi or through the great lakes and the St. Lawrence river.

TREAT CONVICTS WORSE THAN HOGS

A Colorado Penitentiary Warden Says Prisoners Do Not Get a Square Deal

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—"If people treated their sheep and hogs as the convicts of this country are treated in the state prisons, the humane societies would be after them in a minute with a storm of protest." This was one of the statements made by T. J. Tynan, warden of the Canon City, Col., penitentiary, at the Association of Commerce luncheon yesterday. Speaking to about 500 business men about the work being done in the building of roads in his state, Warden Tynan said the prison systems of the country are way behind the times, and he charges the patronage and fee systems in the administration of justice as the cause.

"I am not a sentimentalist," said Warden Tynan, "but my plan of prison government, which has proven eminently successful, is based on common horse sense. It is a simple little system that will work everywhere. In Colorado we employ the honor method handling our convicts. Sixty per cent of the inmates work building roads, miles away from the prison, 200 to 300 in a party, supervised by two overseers, but with no gun guards. They do not run away; they won't run away, for it would be a foolish thing to do. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose by being on their honor. They have taken off their sentence ten days for every month spent on the road work and a month every year for good behavior, and they all work to get out on the road parties."

"The result is that we have 1,000 miles of the finest roads in the country at twenty per cent less cost than if made in any other way. Furthermore, we turn our men out of the prison useful and eighty per cent of them make good. We teach them outdoor occupations that take them away from the cities, away from the factories, back to the soil and make men of them."

Showing moving picture films of the convicts at work on the roads, Warden Tynan said that most people misjudge convicts and that the greater proportion of them are no worse than most people outside—that they are victims of circumstances and just happened to get caught.

"THE DIVORCE QUESTION"

The intense heart gripping play which comes under direction of Rowland and Clifford, is a striking object lesson proving that divorce does not remedy domestic unhappiness—the author firmly contending the Catholic church is absolutely right in its stand on the divorce laws of the present day.

The particular couple instanced in a vain attempt to secure mutual conditions of betterment sacrifice the welfare of their children, leaving the offspring practically parentless, just at the period when they need the care of those who are responsible for their being.

The play is a series of stirring scenes and climaxes and a noteworthy cast portray the various roles at the La Crosse theater tonight.

MAUD POWELL COMING

Interest in the appearance of Maud Powell at the La Crosse theater on the evening of Friday, Oct. 18, on the auspices of the La Crosse Music Study club is not confined to musical circles. Everyone in this country knows Maud Powell as the most distinguished of American musicians and takes pride in the fact that the only woman violinist, who ranks among the foremost of the world's great artists, is an American.

Maud Powell is acknowledged as the greatest instrumentalist America has given to the world and she has given proof of her supremacy in every nook and corner of the globe.

The program which Madame Powell will present in La Crosse is sure to appeal to everyone who has a love of music. The secret of Madame Powell's popularity is that she strives to reach the hearts of her hearers and not to surprise or dazzle them with her technical proficiency.

This concert will be the first of a series of three, the Alice Nielsen Grand Opera Concert company and Evan Williams, the celebrated tenor, being the other numbers.

No Honor at All

A section foreman on one of the great lines came under the notice of the president of the road, who had been observant of the manner in which the track had been maintained. Having graduated from a humble position, the officer knew what it meant to get a pat on the back.

He called the section boss to the side of his car, gave him a drink of whiskey without any claws in it and a perfect cigar, says the Chicago Post. Then he told him how he appreciated his work and adjured him to keep it up.

The district dignitary stowed away the perfect to smoke of a Sunday, and after he had consumed it took a spin on the handcar to put it all over the foreman on the adjoining section.

The latter listened to the narrative with poorly assumed control.

"Was the see-gar lighted when he gave it to ye?" he inquired.

"Not on yer life—why so?"

"Well, because he sint for me three months ago—alongside his car—and thrun wan at me, but it was burnin'!"

POLICE KILL A ROBBER

SURROUND BANDIT IN BLIND ALLEY AND BLOW OFF TOP OF HEAD WITH VOLLEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 26.—With the top of his head shot off, an unidentified robber lies dead here today, the victim of a man hunt by police and citizens after he had held up a street car in San Mateo and fatally wounded City Attorney Kirkbridge.

The robber boarded the car before midnight, taking $56 from the conductor. Then he ordered the motor-man to run the car without stopping for fifteen blocks. When it reached the Barbary coast district, the robber jumped off.

Passengers sounded the alarm and the police took up the pursuit. They cornered the man in a blind alley and as he raised his revolver to shoot, they fired a volley at him. The bullets tore off the top of his head and he fell dead.

If you must write love letters it is safer to use postal cards.

BELFAST MAYOR MAD

IS AFFRONTED AT ACTION OF WAR DEPARTMENT SENDING TROOPS WITHOUT CONSULTING HIM

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 26.—Boiling with anger at the British war department's despatch of reinforcements to the garrison here without consulting him, the lord mayor issued a statement today to the effect that Ulster day will pass without the slightest necessity for military interference. Many citizens think his lordship over-confident, however, though it is agreed that the war office's action without a request from him was a discourtesy.

The soldiers began arriving today. As far as possible regiments have been drafted from sections where little interest is felt in the Irish home rule fight, lest the men themselves take sides in the struggle.

Another anti-home rule demonstration was held today at Ballymoney, County Antrim.

TYPHOON TOLL HIGH

LONDON, Sept. 26.—That the number of killed in the Japanese typhoon late Sunday will run high into the hundreds, was indicated by today's messages from Tokio. Land communication by telegraph is only just beginning to be restored.

Love will find a way—and sometimes it is the way out.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

AN Electric Supply Dealer, whose store is in Illinois, called on us Saturday and saw our immense stock of standard $5.00 Westinghouse Electric Flat Irons. He was greatly impressed with the size of our stock and when we told him that we intended selling these irons during Fair week at $3.00 each, he said: "Great Scott, man, you can't do that. Why, those irons cost me more than that in dozen lots."

WE told him that we could and would sell the irons at $3.00 each during Fair week only, as we considered doing so a good advertising proposition for the irons as well as for ourselves. He told us that he always sold the irons for $5.00, and that we could if we wished ship him ten of our irons at the $3.00 price, and we promised him that we would do so, provided we had any left when the fair was over.

THIS is your chance to get one of these irons at a remarkably low price, and we doubt if you will ever have as good a chance again. If you intend to ever own an electric iron—now is the time to buy, if you do not want it for yourself—it will make a fine gift for a friend.

REMEMBER this special price is positively for this week only and in addition is limited by the number of irons which we have. When our present supply is exhausted, the sale is over.

SMART COATS FOR AUTUMN WEAR

Edited by
MAY MANTON

SMART COATS FOR AUTUMN SUITS.

SHORT coats make the rule for the autumn suits but they are being shown in almost infinite variety as to details. For morning and knockabout wear, the Norfolk is a great favorite and is so generally becoming that every woman must be glad of the fact. We have single-breasted coats and double-breasted coats, coats with big collars and coats with small collars, plain coats and coats in Empire and is exceedingly beautiful. Raven blue is not so dark as one would expect but it is rich and handsome and especially beautiful in broadcloth, and altogether blues make a very fine showing. It was whispered in the earlier season that broadcloth would not be fashionable but the great designers of Paris have decided to use it and handsome suits of this fabric are seen. As it is rich in effect, takes beautiful folds and lines and is generally satisfactory, we may well be glad of the fact. Copper color is almost a craze on

MACKINAW OR BELTED COAT.

BELTED coats in what is known as Mackinaw style are to be much worn this autumn and are especially appropriate for young girls and women to whom girlish styles are becoming. The box plaits in the patch pockets are exceedingly new and exceedingly smart. The hood makes a feature but it is not essential for the coat can be finished without it, the collar completing the neck edge.

Trimming of straps seems to suit coats of this kind especially well and often those on the sleeves are lapped over and buttoned to hold the wrist portions rather closely and to form a few folds. These sleeves can be trimmed in this way or left plain, as liked. Also if a longer coat is wanted for motoring or any similar use, this one can be cut to three-quarter length. The skirt is just a five gored one with the front forming a panel. The materials illustrated are excellent but the autumn is providing us with a very generous variety. Cloaking materials suitable for such use are many. Stripes and checks as well as plain colors are included. For the skirt can be used a plain or fancy material as liked. A great many girls like the slightly raised waist line that does away with the necessity for a belt, but we are growing toward the normal in this matter and this skirt can be finished either above or at the waist line.

FORECAST OF AUTUMN FASHIONS

In a general way, fashions have been much beautified during this summer and the autumn outlook is a really beautiful one. If only women can be persuaded to bear in mind essential truths, we will have a winter of really artistic efforts. No less a personage than M. Poiret has recently stated in print that the greatest folly of which womankind stands convicted is the general surrender of personal needs and the blind following to consult individuality that in the question of color. To wear a shade because it is fashionable whether it is becoming or not is the height of folly. Color, of all things, should be selected with due reference to personal needs. Happily brown suits a very great number of people, for, to all that big brown-haired, brown-eyed sisterhood, it is a real friend. Blue in some shades is very generally becoming, too, but the brown-haired, gray-eyed woman who suddenly found brown no longer desirable has many effect. It would seem that each one of us should choose the model best adapted to her needs without difficulty. In a general way, it is true that cutaway effects will be much used but the straight line appears also and altogether there is exceptional opportunity for that development of the best in oneself that makes the fundamental rule for the best dressing. Fabrics are surpassingly beautiful, too, so that this present autumn is an exceptional one in many ways.

For the every day costume that is always one of the greatest needs, rough finished cloths are to be much worn, and chevrot, homespun, camel's hair and zibeline are shown both in plain colors and in mixtures. For the more elaborate costumes for afternoon occasions, velvet, corduroy, broadcloth and some of the new wool materials that are woven after the manner of eponge and also a wool velours are smart. The velours is just what the name implies, a wool material with a velvet surface. For the heavy winter suit, it is beautiful but for the earlier season, lighter materials are in demand. Velvet is to be much used for handsome costumes and velvet this season means generous variety, for the material is to be found in moiré effects, in corded effects, in striped and in two-toned effects quite as well as the plain, familiar sort. Heavy silks of the poplin order are liked for the autumn and are exceedingly beautiful and moiré velvet is being much exploited. It is a beautiful material and handsome for trimming as well as for entire suits and will be extensively used for collars and like upon wool foundations.

Skirts continue straight and narrow in effect but a great many of the new ones show plaits, either as panels or let in at the seams or utilized one way or another that means a greater actual widening without affecting the general lines; that is to say, the plaits are so arranged that they give freedom for walking, yet hang perfectly straight while the figure is in repose. As a result of all these changes, the autumn suit is a most delightful one, smart in effect, pleasant to look upon, thoroughly comfortable to wear and altogether satisfactory.

Buttons are to play somewhat of an important part but they will be of moderate size, the extremely large ones having been overdone. Stripes and mannish suitings are always practical and will be much worn and they make an excellent background for trimming of plain velvet. Often a little note of color is added by the use of piping on these last and bright red often is seen. Flat braid is much used as trimming, too. Sometimes it binds the edges, sometimes it is applied flat, but in whatever way it is used, it is handsome.

Color always should be a question of what is becoming rather than a fashion but, nevertheless, it is expected that a great deal of smoke gray, some new blues and a generous quantity of dark red will be worn this season. Trimming of fur is to be used on a great many handsome suits, too, and often the back of a collar will be made of fur while the front portions are of the material, and again, we will see an edge of fur round a big collar and on the cuffs, so that we may look for fur utilized in a number of ways. A novelty is found in trimming corduroy with plain velvet, and brown must be added to the list of colors. As brown is particularly beautiful in corduroy, we will have some very charming effects. Smoke gray with trimming of black is handsome and dark red is beautiful with black trimming, while among the new blues are some that lend themselves to black braid with perfect success. Porcelain is not an entirely new blue for we have seen it before, but it comes to us with some slight variations the other side of the sea and copper colored broadcloth is one of the beautiful things that it is always a delight to see, while some of the shades are delightful in may fabrics. Broadcloth and velvet, broadcloth and corduroy, broadcloth and the new plush, whether that plush is wool or silk, combine most satisfactory and the copper shades are a real delight. Touched with black, they seem to take on especial splendor and black trimming will be much worn. In a general way, it may be said for morning, shopping and all the busynesses of life, mixed chevrots and the like will make a wise choice while for the dressy costume of the afternoon, broadcloth, velvet, corduroy and the rough finished materials of the handsome sort may safely be chosen and for trimming, contrasting material with fur during the later season.

AN ENGLISH TOP COAT.

SEPARATE coats are to be exceedingly smart this autumn and this one shows the very newest lines. It is adapted to almost all seasons and materials and can be worn for many occasions. It is excellent for motoring and for travelling and it is just as well adapted to street wear. If very wide material is used, it can be made without seams under the arms, but for narrower materials, the seams are necessary, and many women prefer them in any case as they mean greater shapeliness. Cutaway fronts are being much used and are always effective, but for the practical coats, the straight fronts are often better, and when the seams under the arms are used, the fronts can be finished in either way. A smart and practical feature is found in the collar that can be rolled open or buttoned up tightly about the throat. The sleeves, too, can be made in bell shape or plain. The season is prolific of materials adapted to such coats but, in a general way, cloths with rough finish may be said to be especially smart, although serge is always excellent for the early season. Wool fabric woven after the manner of eponge promises to be much used and mixtures include a very interesting variety. For these last, plain linings are to be preferred, but plaid linings or trimmings on plain fabrics are among the features of the autumn.

LONG DOUBLE BREASTED COAT.

THE long coat that can be worn over any gown is one of the thoroughly satisfactory garments and one that will be extensively worn throughout the autumn and winter. This one is exceedingly smart in cut and style, yet quite simple withal, and it is adapted to any cloaking material. It can be made in the length illustrated or to cover the skirt entirely. Rough finished materials are exceedingly fashionable and make handsome wraps of this sort. Diagonal chevrot is one of the fashionable materials that is durable at the same time, and for trimming, broadcloth, velvet and various contrasting materials will be used. For the early season, dark blue serge with collar of plaid taffeta would make a serviceable coat. Later heavier materials will be desirable and velvet makes a handsome trimming. There is a great tendency toward belted effects this season and this short belt arranged across the back is excellent when it suits the figure, but there are women to whom the long, unbroken lines are more becoming and the coat is quite fashionable with the belt omitted. It is very simple, involving only shoulder and under-arm seams, and the sleeves are cut in one piece each and joined to the main body in what is known as the "set-in" manner. In the illustration, nut brown chevrot is trimmed with champagne colored broadcloth.

AN ENGLISH TOP COAT.

LONG DOUBLE BREASTED COAT.

MACKINAW OR BELTED COAT.

after La Mode,—not that for one moment, M. Poiret desires any one to be out of fashion, but he and all other really great designers know that we must consider fashions from the standpoint of ourselves to be well dressed in the truest sense. We will still be straight of line in the general effect of our garments and no woman desires to make herself out by appearing in anything voluminous, but, whether those lines shall be graceful and shall render the special woman a joy to look upon, or whether they are so exaggerated that the human figure becomes grotesque is quite within the individual power to determine. Fashion is generous. We are to have some plaits and some plain skirts for the tailored costume. We will wear a great many draperies and the draperies will take a variety of forms. In a general way, long skirts are advocated for indoor wear during both afternoon and evening, but trains vary in length from the pretty round skirt that can be worn in a small room without inconvenience to the really long train that always has a certain dignity of its own. It is each woman's privilege to choose the costume that is adapted to her own needs and suits her own personality. We are not held to one fixed style. The slender slip of a girl is provided for but so also is her mature, larger proportioned mother, and, if each will only wear the gown that belongs to her by natural right, the season will be a fascinating one.

CHOOSING APPROPRIATE MATERIALS.

Too often it is the girl or woman of limited means who makes the mistake of choosing the inappropriate material or costume. Women of generous means usually are also women of wide experience. The foolish little girl, working for her living, who thinks she is in the height of fashion because she wears a gown made after the latest model, has much to learn. Her wealthier sister, whose costume she has in mind, chooses the sturdiest materials and the simplest forms for hard usage. She does not go upon the street gowned as for a reception. Fitness is the first law, and unless fitness is borne in mind, no woman is well dressed. Just now when we are offered such fascinating spectacles both of materials and colors, it seems especially necessary to keep such facts in mind. It is so natural to be carried away by the beauty of a piece of silk and to forget for the moment that serge is better suited to the office or the schoolroom, and it is so unfortunate to spend the limited amount unwisely that the opening season seems a peculiarly appropriate time for serious thought and real consideration. Dress is not a question of frivolity. It is all-important. It is said of the great Henry Ward Beecher that he replied to the oft-quoted statement, "Clothes do not make the man": "No, but when he is made, he looks the better for being well dressed." And so long as we remember that to be well dressed is to be fitly dressed, the axiom is to be borne in mind.

Happily the new suitings include a great many very beautiful materials that are also durable and serviceable. Chevrots, hop-sackings, Dutch homespuns in mixed colors are exceedingly smart. There is a great deal of camel's hair cloth shown and what is known as wool velours is exceedingly beautiful yet in a quiet unobtrusive way, serge and whipcord are real standbys and will continue to be worn. For the simpler suits, jackets that reach to the finger tips or to the wrists are preferred with simple skirts and materials of the kind mentioned made up in such a way are real delights.

There is a great deal of brown shown and it is promised that there will be a great deal of mole color worn while there are new blues and new reds that are fascinating, but nowhere is it more important prototypes, for Time changes browns to gray and Nature loves harmony.

COPPER COLOR BECOMING.

Among the new shades, copper color is conspicuous and when it is becoming, it is exceedingly beautiful, and often, when it can not be worn en masse, it is a delight as trimming. Dark green and copper are real joy and there are blues with which the color harmonizes to perfection. The first reports from the great center of matters sartorial declared broadcloth unfashionable for the coming season, but that has not proved to be the fact. The all-important dressmakers have held their openings and cabled accounts report broadcloth for many handsome costumes. Green, copper color and some of the new blues are never so handsome in any other wool fabric and we may be glad that such is the fact. Wool velours makes beautiful trimming to be used upon mixtures or upon a plain broadcloth and there are many combinations of fabrics that bring about most charming results.

BLACK AND WHITE IN STYLE.

Women who find black and white combinations desirable will be glad to know that they will still continue in the height of style. Paris declares for them and all the rest will follow. As yet, we have not seen many new gowns, but hats may always be taken as forerunners and a great many of the new ones show black on white or white and black. For the simple tailored suit, rather small and medium sized hats are the preferred ones with very little trimming, often a single wing or a breast or a smartly arranged, upstanding bow. In not a few instances, hats are of white moiré velours with brims of black velvet while there are also numberless fine felts and hats of beaver shown that are fascinatingly light in weight, exceedingly smart in appearance and altogether attractive in this season. Materials of various sorts enter into the early season hats and there is a new plush that is almost as light and light of weight as the material used for a man's silk hat and which is beautiful of surface and drapes exquisitely. Altogether the millinery outlook is an interesting and attractive one. For young girls are shown simple little hats made of velvet, corduroy and materials of the kind with soft crowns in sections and rolled up, stitched brims that are most attractive for morning wear, travelling and occasions of the kind. Indeed only hats for visiting and formal occasions are elaborate in any way. Simple smartness is the rule for all those designed for the tailored suit. It is said of the great Henry Ward Beecher that he replied to the oft-quoted statement, "Clothes do not make the man": "No, but when he is made, he looks the better for being well dressed." And so long as we remember that to be well dressed is to be fitly dressed, the axiom is to be borne in mind.

Ruffs will be extensively worn. For the early season, tulle and ostrich feathers are favorite materials and charming ones are shown in color to match the hats. They are worn rather closely about the throat as a rule and give a fluffy, Pierrot effect, while they are held in place by ribbon bows.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Sept. 26. —Wheat futures were under the hammer at the opening of the market today and a new low price was established in September at 88 1/4, December and May started a shade lower and were pressed further down as the trading advanced. Liverpool quoted futures lower, free Russian offerings being an important factor.

December corn was forced up 1/4 c early in the day, but prices fell off later below yesterday's close.

Oats were inactive, price changes being within a small range.

Provisions started strong but the market weakened later and prices made slight downward movements.

Motorcycle Notes

Two Australian motorcyclists—I. R. Munro and P. Power—are in the United States en route on a jaunt around the world. The riders left Australia in April and have already toured England, Scotland and a part of continental Europe.

The Harlem Motorcycle club of New York City boasts of two of the most captivating girl riders in the east. They are the Misses Florence and Ethel Willis.

Secretary Gibson of the Federation of American Motorcyclists is working on plans for fire insurance on motorcycles belonging to F. A. M. members.

"Jimmy" Lavender and "Tom" Needham of the Chicago Cubs have just joined the ranks of motorcyclists.

In San Francisco they're going after trout on a motorcycle. The fishing places near the western metropolis have been "fished to death," so the motorcyclists are riding into the Walala River district where the streams are yielding a good quantity of "speckled beauties."

Forty-one riders recently completed a successful three-day tour of Wisconsin. Miss Margaret Lawler, one of the girl riders, was in the front ranks throughout the journey. Each rider will be awarded a medal.

One of the largest drug stores in Louisville, Ky., has been using a motorcycle for delivery purposes and Addison Dimmit, one of the officers, says it is the only practical solution of delivery problems.

J. E. Donehue of New York has been recommended by the board of directors of the F. A. M. as manager of the federation's new touring bureau.

A new motorcycle club has been organized in Aberdeen, N. D.

TO BOX IN WISCONSIN?

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 26.—Wisconsin's legislative body will be called to pass a bill to legalize boxing, similar to the New York law, it was announced today by a Milwaukee legislator.

WIDOWS ANSWER AD

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 26.—Twenty-two widows answered an advertisement for a wifeless Ed Delehanty, 26, representing himself to be a rich widower. He advised one to sell her house and she had him arrested.

Speech enables a woman to conceal what she really means.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Just to show New York what to expect, Joe Wood allowed two hits in nine innings, struck out ten men and the Red Sox whitewashed the Highlanders 6 to 0.

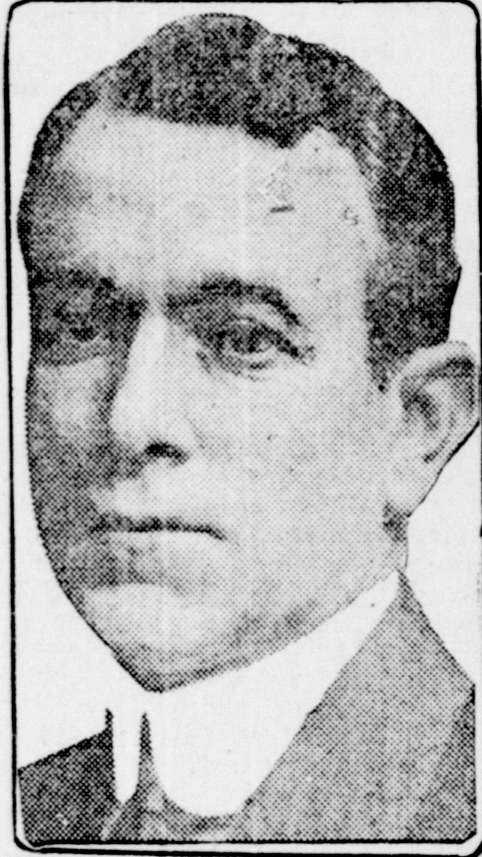

By trimming the White Sox twice, the Browns forced the Yankees into the cellar position.

Barney Dreyfus put a crimp in Umpire Rigler's plans for a Cuban trip with all-star National leaguers when he refused to permit Marty O'Toole and Bobby Byrne to join the expedition.

The Pirates celebrated their return home by trouncing the Cardinals four to nothing.

Now that the national commission has completed plans for the world's series it's up to the Giants to win those necessary two games.

DUFFY DISGUSTED WITH MRS. HAVENOR

Hugh Duffy.

Hugh Duffy, who has been managing the Milwaukee team of the American association, is quite disgusted with Mrs. Havenor, owner of the club. Mrs. Havenor recently declared that Duffy is to blame for the poor showing of her club this season, and informed her manager that she would cut his salary from $7,000 to $3,000. Duffy demurred and declared he would not stand for a reduction. "Any manager with any pride would refuse such a proposition, and that is what I did," said Duffy. "I agree with Roger Bresnahan that women have no business in baseball."

The Cardinals Are Whitewashed, 4 to 0, but One St. Louis Man Reaching Second Base

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Pittsburg, 4; St. Louis, 0
PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—Manager Clarke and his tribe of ball tossers returned from the east yesterday, where they won nine out of twelve games. They began the home series of four games by defeating the Cardinals 4 to 0. O'Toole was in a pitching mood and he had the visitors eating out of his hand. They could get but three hits off him. Bresnahan made one of the three in the ninth when he doubled in batting for Geyer. The feature of the game was the home run by Butler. Score: R H E
St. Louis . . . 000000000—0 3 2
Pittsburg . . . 10101010x—4 9 0

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Boston, 6; New York, 0
BOSTON, Sept. 26.—With Joe Wood pitching in the form the fans hope he will show in the big series, the Yankees accepted a shutout defeat by the Red Sox yesterday. The score was 6 to 0. Wood gave two hits and ten strikeouts and one base on balls. The Sox cracked Schulte's defense in the opener, scoring four runs on two doubles, a single, a fumble and a double steal with two down. Score: R H E
New York . . . 000000000—0 2 4
Boston . . . 40000101x—6 6 0

ST. LOUIS, 5-12; Chicago, 3-0
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—The Browns took both games of yesterday's double header with the White Sox, 5 to 3 and 12 to 0. Baumgardner held the Sox to seven blows in the opener and received splendid support. Doc White allowed twelve safeties and four of them bunched in the seventh resulted in three runs and the game.

The second affair was a joke. Wellman, a recruit, holding the visitors to one hit in the seven innings of play, while the Sox twirlers were batted all over the lot. Darkness stopped the pastime. Scores:

NEW HIGHWAY TO COST $10,000,000

Motorcyclists throughout the United States are showing a great deal of interest in the proposed ocean-to-ocean highway recently given considerable impetus in Indianapolis by Carl G. Fisher, of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and other prominent automobile men.

The Indianapolis men have already pledged $300,000 for the new highway which it is expected will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000,000 and stretch from New York to San Francisco and be completed by the time the Panama-Pacific exposition opens in 1915.

This exposition is expected to attract thousands of autoists and motorcyclists from all parts of the country. Such an American Applan Way has been talked about for a number of years but the first definite action toward making the road a reality was in the Hoosier capitol.

The building of such a roadway is expected to greatly increase coast-to-coast travel on motorcycles and in automobiles. During the past summer there were many riders who traveled from the Atlantic to the Pacific over different routes. Although some of them encountered rough roads in many states they reported good journeys. With a new and improved road stretching across the continent, however, such as is being proposed, the spring and summer of 1915 will probably see thousands of motorcycle and automobile tourists.

It is a waste of time for a man to make a fool of himself when it is easy to get a woman to do it for him. "If" is a mighty little word to cause so much trouble.
